

Comment of the day

The car tax

THE biggest shock in the budget was the decision to impose a purchase tax on new cars. And Government can hardly be surprised at the rumour it has caused in the trade. This may seem to suggest that despite their belief that the measure will not greatly affect new registrations, they are expecting some loss of sales. It is hard to say, however, which kind of dealer will be hit worst.

The prospect of paying another $3,000 on a $30,000 car will not deter the man of means who has set his heart on buying in the Cadillac class. On the other hand the less well-to-do motorist, planning an outlay of $10,000 or $12,000 may satisfy himself with something cheaper, either new or second-hand. The higher cost of petrol might also dictate the choice of a lower consumption car.

THUS we may find an increase in the number of smaller new cars, a drop in the middle range and no change in the higher range. But it will be surprising if the tax can be claimed as a success when Budget time comes along next year. What may be a more effective deterrent is the hint that Mr Clarke has given that the cost of parking, particularly meter parking, may be increased.

An outlay of an extra $1,000 on a $10,000 car may sound stiff, but it is an immediate payment, and soon forgotten. The petrol bills, meter charges, traffic congestion and parking frustrations are more likely to convince the individual motorist of the frustration of running a car, particularly when it involves a daily visit to town.

THE car trade people are right, however, when they stress that parking is the greatest immediate problem though it needs no particular power of clairvoyance to visualise the state of Hongkong roads if the new registrations are allowed to continue at the present rate. New roads are being built and others are being widened to ease congestion, but these are palliatives, not remedies. Road mileage is static and there is no cheap or simple solution for that.

But it is not enough for Government to single out the private motorist for special discrimination. There is in Hongkong an ever-increasing demand for public transport which is contributing in its own way to the congestion of the roads. This is caused by a growing population which demands swift, readily accessible point-to-point conveyance. Yet we have heard no plans of how Government aims to deal with this aspect of the problem.

IF the aim is to prevent a creeping paralysis of roads, attention must be directed not only to private cars, but trams, buses and trucks as well, to say nothing of pedestrians. The only way of doing this and of satisfying the demand for public transport is to start now on a city-suburban railway scheme such as Mr Ken Watson's underground "circle line" or an overhead monorail, neither of which will intrude on road space or interfere with traffic. Government must deal with private and public transport simultaneously.

London, Mar. 2.
The Soviet Union has helped China build a fleet of 30 submarines, the House of Commons was told today.

NEW REPORT ON BIG KIDNAPPING

A new version of the Wong Sik-pun kidnapping case appeared in a leading Chinese language newspaper today in which it was stated that Wong was freed on a "release now, pay later" ransom promise. The newspaper, Sing Tao Jih Po, said that the amount demanded by the kidnappers was $500,000, to be paid in about a year's time "after the publicity has died down," with the threat of death for Wong and his family if the demand was not met. The kidnappers of Wong, the newspaper said, allegedly admitted killing Wong's son Ying-kau, as reported on Wednesday.

The newspaper also alleged that Wong's kidnappers had at first demanded $2 million ransom, but had finally agreed to accept half a million. At no time did Wong Sik-pun see his captor's face which was masked. The interview was held "in a secret compartment built in the wall of a darkened room."

The Police had no further comment to make on the case other than the statement issued on the day after Wong's release, a Government spokesman said.

The China Mail tried to check the above report with both Mr Wong Sik-pun, and his son Raymond but were told at the Wong household that neither man was available for comment.

UK PAPERS TO COST MORE

London, Mar. 3.
Britons will have to pay more for their newspapers from Monday because of increasing costs. The Times announced with regret today that it had now become necessary to raise its price by a penny to five pence. The Guardian will increase by a penny to four pence. The Daily Telegraph, Daily Mail and Daily Herald all announced increases in price from twopence halfpenny to threepence.

The price of the Daily Worker (Communist) will remain at threepence, its price since October 1957. Many provincial morning papers, as well as some Scottish ones, are also expected to increase their prices. The last general increase in the price of national newspapers was in October 1957. Prices of national Sunday newspapers were increased by a penny in January, and last December the price of London Evening newspapers was increased by a halfpenny to threepence.—Reuters.

Mr Charles Orr-Ewing, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, said there was "no reason to doubt" Russia was "equipped with nuclear submarines, since this is well within their capabilities." The Civil Lord said the Soviet Union's submarine fleet is now believed to number about 430. He said China now has 30 submarines because of Russia's early help. He added, 12 Soviet submarines and two auxiliary ships are now based in Albania. Russia has offered the United Arab Republic nine of its submarines and recently sent others to Indonesia.

"During recent years it is clear from reports that the Soviet submarine fleets have been widening their operational experience by operating throughout the seven seas," said Mr Orr-Ewing.

More mobile

Submitting a £408-million naval budget to the Commons, Mr Orr-Ewing called for a stronger and more mobile British Navy to meet the Soviet submarine threat.

Early next year, he said, the first of Britain's six guided-missile destroyers will be commissioned. He said the Royal Navy, once the world's mightiest, now has only 144 operational ships compared with 187 in 1957.

But he declared the ships now in service are highly versatile and "we are able to concentrate a powerful force wherever it may be needed."

Vice-Admiral John Hughes-Hallett predicted Britain some day would have no rocket sites or nuclear bomber bases. Polaris submarines, he said, will provide a political deterrent against all-out surprise attack by 1970 or 1975 "more powerful but far less provocative than anything we have at present."—UPI & AP.

Tanker explodes after collision

Montevideo, Mar. 2.
An Argentine tanker caught fire and exploded today after a collision with a Uruguayan destroyer off the coast, naval authorities reported. Press reports said seven persons were killed and 43 survivors taken aboard by rescue ships. The Argentine Coast Guard said it had word only that two had perished, with 11 survivors rescued. The tanker was identified as the Shellwae, 1,382 tons, belonging to Shell Oil of Argentina. Officials in Buenos Aires said she was carrying a cargo of aviation spirit and kerosene. The tanker was shrouded in smoke and flames, press reports said. The destroyer was the Uruguay, which was returning to Montevideo after escorting President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina on his visit to Mercedes, Uruguay. The tanker was heading for Buenos Aires. The destroyer escaped from the collision with minor damage, and led in the rescue of survivors. About 30 other ships and a seaplane tender rushed to the scene.—AP.

Polaris protest fleet ready for Americans

Glasgow, Mar. 2.
Campaigners against nuclear weapons assembled a protest armada of small craft in Holy Loch today to obstruct tomorrow's arrival of the American Polaris submarine depot ship Proteus (above).

The group drew up their protest fleet—five canoes and two sailing boats—as 100 uniformed police and detectives were drafted into the area.

The nuclear disarmers told reporters they would try to block the path of the Proteus by stringing their flotilla of small craft across the entrance to the mile-and-a-half long loch.

But police officers disclosed that they, too, had a fleet in waiting to escort the 5,700-ton Proteus into its haven—20 launches, backed-up by two small naval patrol boats. The atmosphere was tense all along the quiet sunlit loch today as Scots awaited the arrival of the Polaris mother ship to establish the controversial nuclear base—in an inlet named after an ancient religious community. The demonstrators who plan to try to obstruct the Proteus as she sails in from the Irish Sea will be supported by a large number of people ashore. Their spokesman, 30-year-old Laurence Otter, said today they would resist the establishment of the Polaris base by the same non-violent action as other nuclear disarmers had used in Britain in the past three years.

But while the U.S. Navy men will be greeted with boos and catcalls by many, they will also be welcomed by large numbers to whom the depot ship's arrival will mean trade and prosperity.

Miss Catherine McPhail, Provost of Dunoon, a holiday town close to Holy Loch, has appealed to her 8,800 townfolk to "open their homes" and welcome the Americans.—Reuters.

THAILAND TO EVICT NATIONALISTS

Bangkok, Mar. 2.
Thailand said tonight it is sending troops to forcefully evict 1,000 armed Chinese irregulars who fled across the Burmese border.

Luluabourg tension

Leopoldville, Mar. 2.
The provincial capital of Luluabourg was reported today to be a city of frightened civilians and angry troops. But at the same time the Kasovubu Government here announced conciliatory steps to try to ease the tension in Luluabourg since soldiers went on a rampage and killed 44 civilians.

A UN spokesman could not confirm persistent reports here that the death toll was greater than 44.—AP.

Rhee faints

Honolulu, Mar. 2.
Dr Syngman Rhee, 56-year-old former President of South Korea, fainted while being discharged from the hospital where he had been admitted late last night following a possible heart attack. Doctors decided to keep him here for further observation for possible heart trouble.—Reuters.

TIDAL WAVE

Darl, Mar. 2.
A tidal wave caused by a sudden storm in the Adriatic swamped two fishing boats off this southern Italian port today, killing four fishermen.—AP.

WATER CUT ON SUNDAY

The present round-the-clock supply of water which has been available since February 14 is to be discontinued on Sunday morning when the 10-hour daily supply period will be reintroduced. Announcing this, the Water Authority added this morning that the new hours of supply will be from 6 to 11 in the morning and from 4 to 9 in the evening.

Large-scale arrests in Hungary

London, Mar. 2.
The London newspaper Evening Standard today reported that some 3,000 people including a number of priests, had been arrested in Hungary in the last two days. The paper gave as its source, "reports filtering through to London."

The Standard said this new wave of arrests was a prelude to reductions in the number of Soviet troops in Hungary. Informed circles here said they had no confirmation of the rumours circulating for some time of an eventual reduction of the number of Soviet troops in Hungary.

But the circles said they were informed of an increase in "measures of repression" in Hungary, particularly towards the clergy.—AFP.

United Nations needs money for Congo

United Nations, Mar. 2.
The Secretary-General Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld said today he will need a 25,000-man armed force and $135 million to sustain the UN operation in the Congo in 1961.

The figures are contained in an estimate he prepared for the resumed session of the UN General Assembly to open here on Tuesday.

He declared it was "essential and urgent" for the Assembly to obtain adequate financing of the Congo costs. He made no reference to the fact, Soviet Union and Communists, bled nations have refused to contribute a single penny to the UN Congo operation.

The estimate did not include the $100 million voluntary fund set up to restore the Congo's economic life. Only about $18 million has been contributed to the fund thus far.

Tentative

Mr Hammarskjöld warned that the action of the Security Council last week empowering the UN to use force to stop civil war in the Congo made the cost estimate a tentative one.

"The present estimates assume," he said, "that for the purpose of carrying out its present mandate a minimum of approximately 25,000 men will need to be obtained as rapidly as possible."

He added that the average numerical strength for 1961 is estimated at 23,400 officers and men, "although the actual necessity for the force at this or some other strength to remain throughout 1961 can be determined only by events."

The $135 million estimate includes $107 million for operation costs to be incurred directly by the United Nations and $28 million for reimbursements to governments for costs in providing contingents to the UN force.—AP.

Japanese punters wreck office

Tokyo, Mar. 2.
Angry Japanese punters today attacked the ticket office at the Kawasaki race course near Tokyo, smashed windows, chairs and tables then set the building on fire. They were protesting against what they claimed was a "fixed" race.

Special police squads numbering about 300 were called to the scene. The fire was put out after it had destroyed part of the building.

The incident occurred after the 10th race, when Star Chute, the favourite, was scratched because of leg trouble.

It was assumed bets on that horse would be refunded. Punters objected and claimed all bets on the race should be refunded. The angry punters began stoning the ticket office and were subdued half an hour later after setting it on fire.—Reuters.

THE NEW LOOK

Many progressive firms are these days replacing outmoded provident schemes with up to date group insurance and retirement contracts. The undermentioned are a few of over 70 organizations in Hong Kong alone which have introduced such schemes to the mutual advantage of both employer and employee.

Stocks recover after early 'jitters'

The dominating influence at Ice House Street during the week was Budget Day. And the down-and-up stock market trend reflected the attitude taken by investors on the occasion.

Budget 'jitters' brought a general decline in stock prices last Friday and Monday. But on Tuesday, the eve of the Budget presentation, prices rose, improved further on Wednesday, and held firm yesterday.

Stockbrokers felt that the Financial Secretary Mr. A. G. Clarke's Budget would have no effect on the normal trend of the market which has been steadily rising in recent months. They welcome the news that there will be no additional income or corporation tax this year.

Another Ice House Street man put it this way: "Confidence in future prosperity was reflected in the pattern of today's (Thursday) trading, possibly influenced by the knowledge that industry was not to be burdened by any additional tax."

With the recovery in the latter part of the week, there was an even amount of gains and losses compared with the previous week.

On the China Mail list, 11 stocks showed gains, 11 others showed losses and the remaining three were unchanged.

Most notable gains on the list were those of Wheelocks and Allied Investments.

Wheelocks reached a record high of $14.20 before closing at $13.80.

Last week's closing price was $12.40.

Allied closed at $11.50, an increase of $1.40 on the previous week's quotation.

The leading share, Hongkong Bank, lost $10 at $1865.

The market closed yesterday with a strong undertone, the volume of business amounting to about $10,600,000.

The turnover for the week under review (last Friday to yesterday) totalled about $36,000,000, compared with $36,000,000 for the previous week.

Market diary

Friday: Early trading was very brisk and prices were steady to better. Banks went Ex. Divid., but the price did not reflect it, and held their price throughout the day. Movement became irregular before mid-day and some profit taking eased prices somewhat. The news of Land's dividend and new issue jacked the price up to a maximum of $98 which caused gradual profit taking. Rubber eased a little but Gilman continued their steady advance. The day's turnover of approximately $7,350,000 completed the month's trading at a record monthly turnover of over $30,000,000 which surpassed all previous records by more than $30,000,000 in spite of the relatively few trading days in this holiday month.

Dividend and Bonus Announcements during the week: H. K. Tramways Final $1.45 per share. H. K. Land Final $1.20 per share. H. K. Land New Issue, 1 new for every 5 shares held at PAR ($25).

Monday: Trading was a little lighter than of recent weeks and the market was in a more speculative mood. Most stocks recorded earlier prices, especially Banks, Lands and Lights all of which were done in some volume. Wheelocks after losing some ground in the morning staged a late rally and actually finished higher on the day. Hotels also gained slowly after an uncertain start, the rise probably being due to satisfaction at the dividend declared on Saturday. Many sections were dull. Turnover was approximately $9,350,000.

Tuesday: Recent reports of caution in the market due to Budget 'jitters' were disproved in no mean fashion today, the eve of the Budget statement. Useful gains were marked in every section almost without exception on a general upward surge caused by a spate of buying and a dearth of sellers. Wheelocks were outstanding, passing the $18 mark for the first time closing at $19.40 buyers with no shares on offer. Utilities in demand, both electric companies doing good business and Gas shares came back into the money. Rubbers improved with the general trend and Gilman continued to improve. The turnover was approximately $7,600,000 for the day which closed at its strongest and busiest.

Wednesday: Trading today was limited to one and a half hours and one might have expected only essential business to have been done. Business however was brisk and buoyant throughout and gains were again predominant. Banks remained steady. Lands recovered yesterday's loss, while Gas, Amalgamated Rubber and Gilman continued to improve, the latter registering a new "high". Turnover was approximately $3,700,000 which indicates the pace of this short session.

Thursday: Confidence in future prosperity was reflected in the pattern of today's trading, possibly influenced by the knowledge that industry was not to be burdened by any additional tax. At one time buyers outnumbered sellers by seven to one and prices reacted in accordance with the law of supply and demand. Gains were widespread. Wheelocks made the most rapid advance and ended a little below their best due to some substantial profit taking. Gas shares closed at the strongest. Investment companies improved, among which Gilman in spite of going Ex. Dividend marked up yet another rise. The market closed in a buoyant mood with a turnover of approximately $10,900,000.

Chicago grain market

Chicago, Mar. 2. Old crop soybean futures bounced off a 10 cent limit decline from time to time today on the Board of Trade but without mounting more than slight rallies.

New York cotton

New York, Mar. 2. Cotton futures fluctuated narrowly in slow dealings for the third session in a row.

Apart from some trade buying and selling in the nearby deliveries, following the issuance of 27 delivery notices, the trading lacked a distinct feature. New crop months were neglected most of the time.

Closing prices ruled 4 lower to 8 points higher. The market opened unchanged to off 6 points. New Orleans closed off 6 to up 1 point.

The 27 tenders against March made a total of 131 delivery notices today. The certificated stock today totalled 48,476 bales, plus 6,768 bales awaiting inspection. About half of the tenders were taken up promptly by spot interests, but the rest circulated until about mid-afternoon.

The market's overall stability was helped by continued firmness of the spot markets and signs of a returning buying interest in the textile market.

Raw cotton exports for the season totalled 4,230,393 bales against 4,048,121 bales shipped to the same time last season, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.—UPI.

FOUR MILLION MILES AWAY FROM EARTH Soviet Venus probe still on course

Moscow, Mar. 2.

The Soviet Venus probe is still on course but the Russians failed to get into radio contact with it on February 27 as scheduled, Tass reported tonight.

The agency said in a statement that as long as the station remained in the zone of direct visibility from the Soviet Union "efforts will be made to establish radio contact with it ... on subsequent days."

(The Russians announced after the launching that the space station would automatically send information back by radio every five days. February 27 was one of the days scheduled for such a transmission, and the next is March 4).

Tass said the station was "close to the trajectory calculated for it" and would be about 4,152,700 miles away from the earth by midday tomorrow.

It said the speed at which it was moving away from the earth would be about 13,667 feet per second, at midday tomorrow.

"The processing of tele-metric information has shown that the station's systems functioned normally during the session,"—Reuters.

Anti-Catholic campaign intensified in Cuba

Havana, Mar. 2.

Government leaders today intensified Fidel Castro's campaign against the Roman Catholic Church with demands for the firing squad executions of priests who do not conform to Cuban revolutionary dogma.

A new outburst of intemperate attacks by official spokesmen against the clergy doomed hopes that the Castro regime might reverse its declared intention to abolish parochial and private schools.

The new attacks were spearheaded last night by Education Minister Armando Bart and Cuban labour czar Jesus Soto at a rally calling for execution of the authors of a school bombing earlier this week in which nine girls were injured.—UPI.

COLOMBO CLASH

Colombo, Mar. 2.

Five persons were injured today when soldiers intervened in a passive resistance demonstration in northeastern Ceylon. These were the first casualties in the 11-day-old Satyagraha movement in Ceylon's Tamil-speaking provinces. The movement is protesting against the government's decision to adopt Sinhalese as the official language of Ceylon.—AFP.

Singapore Legislative Assembly condemns former mayor

Singapore, Mar. 2.

The Singapore Legislative Assembly today passed a motion condemning the former Singapore mayor and former minister for national development, Mr Ong Eng Guan for dishonourable conduct and abuse of the privilege of the Assembly.

The motion, raised by the Deputy Prime Minister, Dr Toh Chin Chye, was passed after being put to a vote in which the government party, the Peoples Action Party, won by 31 votes to two with four abstentions.

INQUIRY

Dr Toh had moved that the Assembly, taking note of the report of the inquiry commission into allegations of nepotism against the Prime Minister, Mr Lee Kuan Yew and the Minister for Labour and Law, Mr K. M. Byrne, condemned Mr Ong "for his dishonourable conduct, unbecoming of an elected representative of the people in that he repeatedly used his privilege in this Assembly as a cloak for spreading malicious falsehood to unjustly injure innocent persons inside and outside this Assembly."

'RECKLESS'

The commissioner, Mr Justice F. A. Chua had, after the inquiry commission, described Mr Ong "as a man not to be believed and a man who would not hesitate to tell an untruth when it suited him" and had dismissed his allegations of nepotism as "reckless and groundless."

Mr Ong, who had become the Minister for National Development after winning a seat in the Assembly representing Hong Lim district, resigned from the assembly in December last year. He has hinted that he intended to contest the forthcoming Hong Lim by-election as a candidate of the Singapore Peoples Alliance, an opposition party.—Reuters.

House of Lords uphold Appeal Court

London, Mar. 2.

The House of Lords here today upheld a ruling of the Court of Appeal in a case in which General Hans Speidel, Supreme Commander of Allied Land Forces in Central Europe, sued a British film distributing company for libel.

The Lords upheld the ruling that the company were not entitled to refer in their defence to the action, to specific charges made in the film depicting General Speidel as a notorious spy and war criminal. The House dismissed an appeal by Plato Films Limited of London and two directors of the company, on a preliminary point against the Appeal Court's order striking out part of their proposed defence.

Falsely shown

Lord Simonds said General Speidel had alleged he was falsely shown in the film "Operation Teutonic Sword" as having been party to the murder of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Mr Barthou in 1934 and to betraying Field-Marshal Rommel to the Nazis in 1944.

The company claimed that was true and also sought to plead in mitigation of damages that there were other charges in the film, also true, which the general did not deny.

Parts of the defence were struck out by the Court of Appeal who held the company were entitled to call evidence that the general had a bad reputation as a party to war crimes and atrocities.—Reuters.

EUROPEANS SEEK REVENGE

Oran, Mar. 2.

A crowd of more than 2,000 irate Europeans marched tonight into the centre of Oran, manhandling Moslems and burning their vehicles to avenge the deaths of two middle-aged French women.

Emergency reinforcements of troops and mobile guards set up barricades to separate mobs of Europeans on one side and a quickly growing mob of Moslems on the other.

With the centre of town still in ferment at nightfall, officials said eight persons had been injured, including one seriously hurt, and four vehicles had been overturned and set afire. The Europeans paraded into town from a cemetery after attending burial services for Mrs Kyricos, one of the two women burned to death in their motor car by a mob of Moslem youths earlier this week.

Shouting the battle cry of Algeria's European settlers, "Algeria is French" the Europeans sought to lay their hands on every Moslem they spied.—AP.

Nato troops should get A-weapons, German says

Bonn, Mar. 2.

Colonel Gerd Schuckle, chief spokesman of the West German Defence Ministry, said tonight that Nato front-line troops should be equipped with atomic weapons.

Colonel Schuckle, who was giving a radio commentary on Soviet military policies for 1961, said he did not agree with the view that Western Europe could be defended solely with conventionally-armed forces. The Soviet Union had built up an "impressive" rocket force, which, besides tactical mobile short range weapons, included more than 100 launching bases for long- and medium-range rockets in the Soviet Union and in Eastern European Communist countries.

DID NOT TRUST.

But the latter were refused launching equipment for such weapons because Russia did not trust them, while Nato units "on the central European front" had such launching facilities. Mr Nikita Khrushchev wanted to do away with this military advantage of Nato.

Colonel Schuckle added that to maintain the necessary level of Nato's deterrent factor, conventional weapons must of course also be improved. At the same time, reasonable and energetic steps towards general and controlled disarmament should be taken.—Reuters.

Prof. Haldane submits resignation

Calcutta, Mar. 2.

Professor J.N.S. Haldane, the eminent British biologist, who has acquired Indian citizenship, has submitted his resignation as a professor in the Indian Statistical Institute's Research and Technical Department.

Professor Haldane said in his letter of resignation that he wanted to sever all connections with the Institute because of "differences of opinion" with its director, Professor P. C. Mahalanobis.

An Institute spokesman said the Board would consider the letter of resignation in the next few days. He added "there have not been sufficient grounds for such a resignation."—China Mail Special.

Queen gets fabulous reception on arrival in Iran

Teheran, Mar. 2.

The Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, were cheered and clapped by hundreds of thousands of people when they drove into Teheran with the Shah and Empress Farah today at the start of a four-day tour of Iran.

"Never before in our relationship has the need for concord and cooperation between our two countries been greater as a potent and effective element in the preservation of peace."

He spoke of the "affectionate understanding" between the British Royal family and the people as a "great asset in your national life."

In Iran as in Britain, he said, "The continuity of our national life has been guaranteed and safeguarded by our monarchy."

Before the Queen left New Delhi this morning it was announced that the Indian President, Dr Rajendra Prasad, will visit Britain later this year at her invitation.

Official sources said the visit was likely to be in June or September.

Both British and Indian officials in India have hailed the Royal tour there as an outstanding success.—Reuters.

quire a very private do-it-yourself printing plant.

But, I have met others whose junctures are quite praiseworthy.
There was a bloke in Hongkong years ago who had the quaint habit of sleeping in trees
when he was on a binge.

I discovered this fact in the old "Snake Pit" at the Hongkong Hotel early one morning when I was trying to hold down a hair of the dog that bit me the previous night.

The chap was minus his shoes and had sent out one of the boys to get him a violin-case size of anything wearable.

Like a perfect gent, he'd removed his shoes before "going to bed," placed them neatly at the foot of a tree in Garden-road, then clambered up for his pleasant night's rest.

An early morning passer-by,
saw the shoes and picked them up—little dreaming that the owner was slumbering aloft
amid the leafy branches.

INSISTENT

Months later, I met him in a bar in Kowloon where he was being highly obnoxious. On seeing me, he calmed down and confided that he'd found a wonderful tree in Nathan-road. He was most insistent that he show
it to me so after a quick beer, obliged by topping into my involvement while he navigated to the tree.

I remember his jubilant cry
"Here it is," and his ad-monishment to remember it so I could drive him back there later.

We returned to the bar where he immediately began picking fights and generally behaving
like a gorilla gone nuts.
Sozzled to the eyeballs, he came over and asked me to drive him to his tree.

He took off his shoes—and this time I placed them in the fork of some lower branches—and up he went. I bade him
"goodnight" and rushed back madly to inform a couple of disbelievers that now they could come and see for themselves.

Of course, some idiot burst out laughing and made other suspicious noises at the foot of the tree—and woke up the tree-dweller.

It's lucky there were no cops around as he used the most shocking adjectives to describe his right and title to his chosen resting place. "It's my un-mentionable tree," he shrieked,
as he shook the branches
Tarzan-fashion and threatened blue murder to any who dared disturb him.

I haven't heard of him for years, but feel he'd make an ideal tourist attraction if he were given the freedom to sleep in any tree along Nathanroad. It would at least provide some variety on that tourist Mecca. The only trouble is that the confounded tailors would all be yelling for tree-top concessions too.

Gales hold up Oriana

Melbourne, Mar. 2.
Heavy gales on Southeast
Australia's coast today prevented the new P and O liner Oriana from returning to England.

The 40,000-ton liner—on her maiden voyage—was ready to sail for Fremantle on her way to England with 1,000 passengers when winds up to 45 miles an hour postponed her departure.

The Oriana is the biggest liner on the England-Australia run.—Reuter.

Discrimination against Soviet pressmen alleged

Moscow, Mar. 2.
The Government newspaper, Izvestia, yesterday complained that Soviet correspondents in the United States were discriminated against, Tass reported.

The newspaper's New York correspondent said Soviet correspondents' mail was systematically held up.

They were compelled to register as "agents of a foreign power" and were "duty bound" to account "to the last cent"
for all money spent in the United States.

It said also that some time ago United States immigration authorities had "suddenly demanded the fingerprints of Soviet correspondents who had asked for their residence visas to be extended."—Reuter.

Sukarno outlaws all opposition

Djakarta, Mar. 2.
President Sukarno, in a series of sweeping reforms, today outlawed any organisation—political or social—which refused to subscribe to his concept of guided democracy.

The reforms, which included military control of the entire press, was expected to paralyse any opposition to the Government which was appointed by him.—UPI.

Chile earthquake

Santiago, Mar. 2.
Thousands of people rushed in panic into the streets here and in the neighbouring port of Valparaiso late yesterday when a 30-second earth tremor rocked the area. There were no casualties or damage.—Reuter.

Opium seized

Bangkok, Mar. 2.
Police have seized US$150,000
worth of opium on a train bound for Bangkok from the northern province of Lampang.
It was learned today.—AFP.

SERIOUS DROUGHT IN CHINA

Paris, Mar. 2.
Radio Peking, disclosed tonight that drought was still
"extremely serious" in North China, especially in Shensi province.

Up to yesterday afternoon, rainfall had yet to fall in the drought stricken provinces in North China.

In Shensi, peasants had been unable to start their spring sowing as they are confronted with the third worst drought to hit the province in the past three years.

According to the Radio, there appeared little likelihood of heavy rainfall. It stated that throughout last winter, rain and snow was scarce.

The Radio revealed that the provincial authorities had mobilised more than 70 per cent of their total functionaries, versed in agricultural knowledge, to go to the countryside to assist the natural calamity, side by side with the peasants.

At the same time, the Radio said that Shantung, one of China's main wheat producing provinces, was also in the grip of drought.—AFP.

Bad news for Moslem men

Pakistan's new law—only one wife allowed

Karachi, Mar. 2. The Pakistan Government handed out some startling news Thursday to its 35 million Moslem men.

It was in the form of a law forbidding a Moslem to have more than one wife—instead of the customary four—at a time. The law, which was signed by Pakistan President Field Marshal Ayub Khan, provides tough penalties for the abuse of polygamy.

Should a Moslem want to take a second wife, he must first get permission from an arbitration council, to be formed for the purpose, and permission will be granted only in exceptional circumstances.

Should a love-lost Moslem attempt to bypass the council he can be jailed for a year or fined 5,000 Rupees or both.

In addition, he must repay the full amount of the dowry to the first wife who will then be entitled to sue for the dissolution of her marriage on the grounds that he took a second wife without permission.—AP.

MORE WORK PLEA BY BELFAST WORKERS

Belfast, Mar. 2. Twenty thousand Belfast shipyard workers "downed tools" today and marched through the centre of the city as a protest against impending redundancies.

About 20 clergymen and ministers representing churches of all denominations in the shipyard area walked at the head of the procession along with union leaders.

The demonstrators sent telegrams to the Northern Ireland Government and to Northern Ireland Members of Parliament at Westminster.

The telegrams called on the Government and the MPs to take action to secure more work. It was announced recently that 7,000 men at the yard would be declared redundant.—Reuters.

'Free France' spokesman

Paris, Mar. 2. Jean Oberle, one of the best-known spokesmen for "Free France" on the British Broadcasting Corporation during World War II, died today in Paris of a heart attack. He was 60. Oberle was well known in France as a writer, painter and illustrator of Parisian life.—AP.

'BAN THE BOMB' SLOGANS PLASTER STONEHENGE

Amesbury, Mar. 2. "Ban The Bomb" slogans in bright yellow letters four feet high, today appeared on Stonehenge, Britain's most impressive prehistoric stone structure.

The slogans were painted on eight of the 20-foot high stones forming part of the outer circle of the monument which stands on Salisbury plain and yearly draws thousands of tourists.

On a ninth stone was the emblem of the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.

Hooligans

Police investigating the defacement of the stones this morning found a pot of yellow paint and a large brush in the centre of the monument.

A spokesman for the Salisbury Committee of the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament denied that "the daubings were the work of their members."

"We deplore this sort of thing and suggest it is the work of hooligans," he said.—China Mail Special.

Harper's Bazaar offends people of Rangoon

New York, Mar. 2. An advertiser here has expressed regret that a statue used in a photograph of women's footwear was a representation of Buddha—and for the offence this caused to people in Rangoon.

The problem originated when a full-page advertisement appeared in the November issue of Harper's Bazaar magazine, a popular publication for women. It showed a pair of women's feet shod in slippers with the golden figure in the background.

The magazine reached the library of the United States Information Agency at Rangoon and reports from there said Burmese who saw it were shocked, as Buddhists regard feet as the most unworthy part of the body and require that shoes be removed before any Buddhist shrine is entered. Library officials removed the magazine from the shelves.

Joseph H. Mintzer, an advertising executive here, said the figure used appeared to be a slim female rather than the male figures usually associated with Buddha and that no slight was intended.

"We are deeply sorry to have offended the people of Rangoon," he said, "it was certainly done in innocence."—AP.

Queen Mother visits male stronghold

London, Mar. 2. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother came to Fleet-street tonight to visit a male stronghold, the London Press Club.

The members presented her with a blue feathered quill pen.

She was received by Lord Astor of Hever, President of the club, and Mr John Marshall, this year's chairman. Members of the committee were presented first. Then in the dining room, where the party was held, over sherry and other drinks, the Queen Mother went round talking to everyone of the 160 members who had won in a ballot for tickets.—Reuters.

THE TROUBLES OF THE POST OFFICE

London, Mar. 2. More than 200,000,000 letters and parcels a year are so badly addressed in Britain that it is difficult to deliver them.

Miss Mervyn Pike, Assistant Postmaster General, told a "speed the mail" exhibition here that nearly a third of all posted mail was poorly or incorrectly addressed.

It cost an estimated £300,000 extra a year.

Most common error was leaving out the postal district in a city address. Next was leaving out the name of town.—China Mail Special.

The gym slip style gets a start-of-term report

ONE of the biggest crazes since hula hoops has just whisked through the school-room door. For the designers who make the clothes that you and I want to wear (and who anticipate our NEXT fashion fad before we've begun to outgrow the last), have taken a refresher course.

They have been back to the schoolroom for inspiration. The result? The kind of clothes that every sixth-former still won't be able to wait to get out of—but, judging by the spiralling sales, every fashion-conscious girl and woman can't wait to own.

The designers have jazzed up the gym slip, smartened up the school hat, brought back the satchel-shaped bag, and managed to produce the crispest set of clothes in years. when I threw my regulation school hat over that regulation school goal-post, I must say that on all practical grounds these form-room fashions come out pretty near the top of the class.

STORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Railroad Station

—Knarf Finds It Hidden In A Very Thick Bush—

By MAX TRELL

KNARF, the Shadow with the Turned-Around Name, was playing ball with his sister Hanid when all of a sudden the ball—it was a small red rubber ball—went bounding and rolling, this way and that way, all the way down the hill.

"Get it Knarf! Get it!" shouted Hanid.

Ran down hill

Then Knarf ran down the hill after the red rubber ball, and Hanid ran down the hill after Knarf.

Now when Knarf was about halfway down the hill—and quite a distance ahead of his sister—he saw the ball bound into a thick bush. So Knarf bounded into the bush right after it.

And there he was, in a big, high-collared place like a railroad station. That's what it seemed to be. For just as Knarf came in, he heard someone calling out:

"All aboard for Lake Bottom Station!"

Many passengers

Then Knarf saw a whole crowd of Frogs and Salamanders and Crawfish, all rushing to get on the train!

"Pardon me, young man," said an old Snail as he came up to Knarf, "did that Conductor say Lake Bottom Station or Pond Bottom Junction? My hearing is a little thick."

the train to Maple Tree Village. "You'd think I was going to eat them or something," Knarf heard the Cat mutter angrily as she walked away.

Then Knarf walked to the back of the station where all the parcels and bundles and packages and letters were stored.

Other animals

Scene Rabbits in overalls were coming and going with huge bundles on their backs—bundles of carrots and cabbages and spinach.

The Conductor was calling out a third station.

"Undergrass Town! All aboard for Undergrass Town!"

All the Rabbits immediately ran for this train. So did the Moles and more of the Chipmunks, and lots of Earthworms and Beetles and Doodlebugs and Toads. And several whole families of Field Mice.

Knarf saw the Cat run for this train, too—saw her try to run past the Conductor. But it was too late. The gate was closed right in her face.

"Pshaw!" said the Cat. "I don't think I'm going to get anywhere from this station."

And she stalked off, her whiskers bristling and her tail waving.

Pointed to it

"And where," asked the Conductor when he spied Knarf, "do you want to go, my good little boy? Are you looking for something? Have you lost your ticket?"

"No, sir, I've lost my red rubber ball," said Knarf. "There it is," said the Conductor, and he pointed to it, right in the middle of the station.

"I'm looking for my ball," Knarf told the Snail.

A Hen, who had been going to Fairyland City, at the edge of the Park Zoo, had been sitting on it. She thought it was an egg.

"There's a whole railroad station under that bush," Knarf told Hanid a few minutes later, when he came out with the ball. "Just look!"

Everything gone

But when Hanid looked, she saw nothing.

All the trains had left. All the passengers had gone away. All the trunks and bags and bundles and packages had been removed.

And all Knarf could do was shrug his shoulders and say that he had seen it. He was sure of it!

But it wasn't there any more. Nothing was there any more—only the Cat. And she wouldn't say a word, no, not a single word!

JACOBY on BRIDGE

NO one has an opening bid in accordance with standard American practice and when this hand was played at the Nationals most tables passed it out.

The bidding in the box is that at our table. My partner, Curtis Smith, opened one spade since his hand qualifies as an opening bid in our system. It is worth 12 points (10 in high cards, plus two for the singleton) and also has two defensive tricks against any adverse contract.

If he had been allowed to play three clubs he would have made it. As it was, North and South took the hand away from us and South went down one at the three-heart contract. He could have made the hand if he guessed against the jack-ten-nine of hearts in my hand, but South was only looking at his own hand and dummy.

At the tables, when West passed and North chose to open the bidding the hand either wound up with South making two hearts or West going down at two spades. West can make the two spade contract, but once more a good look at all the hands is essential if he wants to find the winning play.

Incidentally, the North hand is also a Jacoby-Smith opening bid since it has 12 high card points. It is not a standard American opening since it has no additional playing points.

Rupert and the Winter Sale—23

The lady in the fur coat takes the missing purse and, quickly checks what is inside. "Everything's there!" she declares. "What an observant little person you are. I owe you a lot and I should like to give you a present. What would you like?" "I don't want anything," says the lady.

Rupert: "Unless... unless I could take Mummy a present. She wanted a hat but someone else bought it just as she got there." "Oh, and what was it like?" says the lady. And, to their amusement, Rupert tries to describe the hat that he saw in the window.

PEARCE MEMORIAL CUP RACE TOMORROW

Three tie for lead in New Orleans Open

New Orleans, Mar. 2. Julius Boros, Doug Sanders and Johnny Pott fired four-under-par 68 today to take the first round lead in the $30,000 New Orleans Open Golf Tournament.

Boros, from Mid Pine, North Carolina, shot his 35-33-60 early in the day and then sat back to see it matched by Sanders and Pott. Pott had a shot at a 25-foot birdie putt on his last hole that would have given him the undisputed lead — but it rimmed the cup.

Blacketed at 60 were Fred Hawkins, Marty Furgol, Mike Soucheak, and George Bayer. Nine players tied at 70. They were Paul Hane, Gardner Dickinson, Frank Boynton, Don Mastaglio, Fred Haus, Howie Johnson, Doug Ford, Arnold Palmer and Jerry Pittman.

Another tournament favourite, South African Gary Player, had 37-36-73, and defending champion Dow Finsterwald shot a 38-37-75.—UPI.

GIMENO BEATS OLMEDO

Brussels, Mar. 2. Andres Gimeno of Spain gained his second victory in the Professional Lawn Tennis Tournament here when he beat Alex Olmedo of Peru 10-7 to-night.

World Ice Hockey wins for Russia and Canada

Geneva, Mar. 2.

A speedy, powerful Russian team tonight battered an inexperienced United States team 13-2 in the World Ice Hockey Championship and paved the way for a big battle for the crown against Canada.

The husky Canadians played a strong Swedish team in Geneva at the same time as the Russians were trouncing the American team in Lausanne.

The Canadians won 6-1 — but only after the Swedes held them to a scoreless second period. The Canadians scored three goals in the first period and then rammed home another three in the last period.

Deciding match

The Canadians and the Russians are due to meet on the last day of the championships — March 12 — and that is the match almost certain to decide the championship.

Earlier today, Czechoslovakia, another team in the premier division, crushed Finland 6-1.

Russia now leads the standings with the better goal spread—the difference between goals scored and those conceded. Czechoslovakia is second and Canada third. At three teams have two points each.

The Canadian-Swedish game was clean and fast with never a sign that it would turn into the brawling, bruising battle that upset Swedish fans in Stockholm three weeks ago.—AP.

Irish Cup draw

Belfast, Mar. 2.

The draw for the second round of the Irish Football Association Cup is to be played on March 11 is:

Ardara Coleraine vs Glenavon.

Ballymena vs Ballyclare Comrades.

Distillery vs Portadown or Crusaders.

Linnfield vs Bango.—Reuter.

Prominent View or Salome may give lucky ticket holder the big Cash Sweep

The Royal Hongkong Jockey Club's three-day 9th (Annual) Race Meeting will conclude tomorrow and a record gathering of racing fans is expected.

The most important events are the Pearce Memorial Cup, the Chairman's Cup and the Lusitano Cup.

The programme will consist of 10 events, with the first event starting at 12.00 noon. There will be a tiffin interval after the fourth race at 1.30 pm and racing resumes at 3.00 pm.

Here are my estimates of the chances:

FIRST RACE

Wongneichong Stakes (First Section): From 1 1/4 Mile Post. The opening race tomorrow is confined to 1961 Subscription Grifflins. They will each carry 147 lbs. Stakes winners are barred.

The horses to watch here are Dinna Ken (H. M. Botelho), Ultrasonic (K. Kwok) and Cobber (H. K. Cheng). Dinna Ken is my choice, and I think it should win, but Ultrasonic is not to be ignored as this horse can move and the distance is more to its liking. Cobber should take the third position.

SECOND RACE

Wongneichong Stakes (Second Section): From 1 1/4 Mile Post. The second lot of 1961 Subscription Grifflins will contest this event and as Great Wall and Walbrook have now been entered in the third section of this event Blue Danube looks the best of the lot.

THIRD RACE

Pearce Memorial Cup: From 2 Mile Post.

This race which is confined to Class 2 horses is the main event of the afternoon and on it the Special Cash Sweep will be decided.

This race will in the main be a return match between Salome (H. K. Hung) and Prominent View (H. C. Pih). At the 7th Race Meeting I thought Prominent View was unlucky to lose, and that if he had been ridden harder by H. C. Pih the result might have been different. However, I think the result will be reversed tomorrow.

Edinburgh (D. Wayne) and Forget-me-not (H. M. Botelho) have outside chances of placing.

FOURTH RACE

Wongneichong Stakes (Third Section): From 1 1/4 Mile Post. This is another sprint race for the third section of 1961 Subscription Grifflins.

Maseel (Alex Lam), will undoubtedly start as favourite here.

Full Stretch (H. M. Botelho) has attracted some attention during morning gallops and is not to be ignored. As an outsider Keep Magnifique (K. Kwok) in mind.

FIFTH RACE

Southern Handicap: From 2 Mile Post.

This race is confined to Class 8 horses. The calibre of Hit Parade (T. S. Leong) is well known and its win in the Smugglers Pass Handicap over Six Furlongs at the last meeting with Cruz up must rate it as the pony to win this race.

Opposition should come from Tamerlane (K. Kwok) and Twin Luck (S. W. H. Ho).

Lucky Chap (Alex Lam) is good as an outsider.

SIXTH RACE

Chairman's Cup: From 2 Mile Post.

This race will be contested by 1961 Subscription Grifflins. The weight allotted is 143 lbs but winners of $3,000 in stake money will be penalised 3 lbs and winners of $5,000 in stake money 7 lbs. Penalties are not cumulative.

Judging from its win in the Hopeful Stakes (Third Section) over the mile on the first day of the Annual Race Meeting, I think Sans Souci (Alex Lam) can win again.

Woman World (P. Plumby) is good enough to offer strong opposition in case the bay gelding sails.

Good Fun (K. Kwok) is not to be neglected. As an outsider Tell Me How (C. Y. Wong) is worth following.

SEVENTH RACE

Victoria Handicap (First Section): Six Furlongs.

Zanzibar (H. K. Hung) will without doubt, be the slightly fancied horse in this event after its win from the 1 1/4 Mile Post at the last meeting.

I think its closest rival is Connemara (P. Plumby), which is in fine form at the moment and should give Zanzibar the fight of its life for the first position.

Camella (C. Y. Wong) should receive some attention as it is ready for a good effort and is a sound place bet.

Ben Loyal (Robert Teal) has demonstrated plenty of urge to run and should be able to challenge the favourites here.

EIGHTH RACE

Lusitano Cup: From 2 Mile Post.

Wellfare (H. K. Hung), carrying 130 lbs, came second in the Customs Pass Handicap from the Half Mile Post Once Round & In at the last meeting. It will be called upon to carry another 2 lbs tomorrow. I think this pony is capable of shouldering the extra weight and win in this crowd.

Suberb (Alex Lam), which was third in this same race, is certainly not to be neglected. Patches (Chun Kit) should also be in the running.

Malchik (K. Kwok) is the best outsider.

NINTH RACE

Hongkong Handicap: Six Furlongs.

It would appear that Sure Goal (K. Kwok) is the logical choice for the first position in this sprint race.

City of Victoria (Albert Lam) has shown improvement during morning gallops and should be near at the finish.

Harmony II (T. H. Yau) is coming along nicely but I cannot see it beating the above mentioned two ponies.

For those looking for an outsider, Hit Fi (S. W. H. Ho) is the horse.

TENTH RACE

Victoria Handicap (Second Section): Six Furlongs.

This is the final event of the Annual Race Meeting and among the ponies entered the winner should come from either Permanent View (H. C. Pih), or Norse Prince (D. Wayne).

Flyweight champion Pone Kingpetch makes good start in bantam class

Bangkok, Mar. 2.

World Flyweight champion Pone Kingpetch successfully moved up a notch in the bantamweight class tonight by winning a unanimous decision in a 10-round non-title bout over Spanish bantamweight champion Jose Luis Martinez before 10,000 partisan fans in Rajadamnern Stadium. Pone weighed 115 pounds and Martinez 117 pounds.

Pone relentlessly stalked his heavier opponent, scoring heavily with hard jabs to the face and crushing blows to the body. In the fourth round Martinez opened a cut over Pone's left eye but the Thai champion retaliated by drawing blood from Martinez's face.

Martinez never stopped bleeding. In some rounds his face was covered by a bloody mask. The heavier Martinez landed many blows to the body of his rangy opponent, but they were apparently ineffectual as Pone kept pouring on the pressure.

In the ninth round Martinez landed a hard right and Pone slipped falling against a rope. The referee did not rule it a knockdown.

Both boys were fighting hard at the end with Martinez pushing hard for a knockout. It was his only way to win.

After the fight Pone's manager said that after the cham-peon's fight with Mitsunori Seki in Tokyo "we may seriously consider having Pone fight in the bantam class." He said prospects may be good for a fight with European champion Alphonse Halimi.

He said he would like to see a fight with Halimi in Bangkok or Paris.

When Pone won the crown here last April against Pascual Perez of Argentina Pone weighed 110 1/2 pounds.—AP.

CRAWFORD WHITE, after watching the Australians in action weighs England's chances

Meet Benaud halfway

ENGLAND'S POWER MEN CAN WIN AT HIS OWN GAME

What kind of a Test series will it be? Australia's captain, Richie Benaud, has made it abundantly clear that, if England's captain is prepared to meet him half way, he is all for putting on the new deal of better cricket in England this summer. That is fine. But I say that England's captain must do more than meet Benaud half way. His job is to beat him at his own game and take the initiative as West Indies did.

For in Colin Cowdrey, Peter May, Ted Dexter, Ken Barrington, to name only four, we have the powerful stroke-makers who can do it.

In Australia the arguments have raged on who started the big slow-down in Test cricket, and generally, with Hutton taking the worst beating, England have been blamed. The fact that West Indies scored more slowly than England on their own wickets last winter, and that players like Ken Mackay and Jimmy Burke in recent years have balanced out our own Trevor Bailey, is conveniently forgotten.

Leaders

Forgotten, too, is that in the final analysis of this great series just ended Australia ducked from under the brighter-cricket banner when the pressures were really on in the last Test.

They crawled home in a dither of slow uncertainty of the worst old-deal standard, and that also is overlooked.

But this is not a time for looking back or for recriminations. I don't care who started the weary business. All I want to see is England and Australia being big enough this summer to finish it. They are still the leading countries of world cricket, and the responsibility indisputably is theirs.

How this series is played is going to matter far more than who wins.

Cynics will say that is the oldest platitude in the business. But right now it happens to be vitally true. This last series in Australia will not be remembered for that.

crawling Australian win-by-two wickets. It will be remembered for the glorious stroke-play of Kanhai, Worrell, Sobers, O'Neill, and, occasionally, Simpson, Benaud, and Davidson.

It will be remembered for the spirit of the two teams—until the last Test—willing to let adventure return to the game. Those were what thrilled the nations and produced that world record 80,800 crowd in that £40,000 final battle.

And those are the qualities the English public has the right to expect this summer. I would rather see England lose trying the new way than win in the crawl of the old.

£30,000 profit for West Indies cricketers

Port-of-Spain, Mar. 2. The West Indies' share of the profit from their cricket tour of Australia is 144,000 West Indian dollars (£30,000), Mr. Max Marshall, assistant manager of the touring team, said here on Tuesday night.

The money will be used for subsidising inter-colony matches and settling other financial commitments faced by the West Indies Board of Control, he said.—China Mail Special.

London Express Service.

We have had previous promises of brighter cricket season after season without much result. Always the technicians of the game, found excuses.

Faster

In Australia Benaud had his sight on at least 300 runs a day. I suggest England's captain raises his to 350. England's over-rate also has to be stepped up to an average of 20 to 22 an hour.

Field changes have to be slicker, and that small but intensely ill-mannered falling of incoming batsmen who keep the crowds waiting has to be cut out.

Batsmen must meet on the field—well on. Finally, I suggest that, instead of each team having its own private tactical talk over dinner on the eve of each Test, the two teams should dine together.

Keep tactics for the dressing-room. Let's develop the friendships. Let's have teams looking as if they are enjoying their cricket. It can be a glorious series. In fact, it must be.

A THRASHING FOR THE CHAMPIONS?

Softball's top teams SCAA, Cheyennes clash in weekend's main match

By OLLY VAS

The big game of the week at King's Park will undoubtedly be the return match in the Senior division between Bertie Gosano's Cheyennes and Lo Kar-hing's unbeaten South China AA nine.

These two 'giants' of the Senior league clash on Sunday at 1.30 pm and there should be a large crowd at the ball park to watch this game.

The New Asia Collegians and the Stardusts are featured in the opening game of the weekend when they cross bats at 2.00 pm tomorrow.

Lionel Dayaram's boys found the going somewhat rough against the Collegians at their first-round meeting though triumphing by a five-run margin, but are still the logical choice to win tomorrow's match.

The Collegians have improved tremendously in recent weeks but not sufficiently enough to upset the opposition.

I envisage another Stardust victory which will ensure that they stay firmly in the runners-up position they now occupy. However, there should not be more than a handful of runs separating the teams.

One-sided

A one-sided game should follow when the Indians come up against the Wolves. There is much at stake for the Indians, for they have two or three players in the running for the Junior batting title and in softball parlance both Ricky Oliveira and Johnny Chaves should 'fatten' their batting averages against the pitching of Bonnie Castro.

That Alex Braga's team will win this match there is no doubt at all but can they do so by an even greater margin than the last time? They accounted for the Wolves to the tune of 20-1 earlier in the season and if they go all out to score the runs they can again pile up a big score.

The ladies get Sunday's programme off to a very early start when the Toreros and the SCAA nine get together for a 9.30 am meeting.

The SCAA girls beat the Toreros 18-0 once before and this is a clear indication of the big difference in the standard of play of the two teams.

The Caroliners are too good, on present form, for any other local team and it goes without saying that they will run up another big score against the Toreros.

The Toreros have acquired the services of twice-MVP winner, Frances da Silva but even if she plays this week their leading will let them down.

At 11 am the Wolves play the Servicemen from Fanning, the Antelopes, managed by Henry Mayfield. Both Benny Constantin's boys and the Antelopes have very little playing experience, but a lot of spirit and enthusiasm and since their standard of play is of the same level we can expect the result to be a close one.

Could repeat

The Wolves beat the Servicemen by a single run in the first-round game and could repeat but I pick the Antelopes to reverse the decision this time.

Which softball fan can ever forget Dave Mallig's disastrous showing for the Cheyennes against SCAA only a few months ago? He issued 10 walks then and the Cheyennes lost the game 2-4 but since then Mallig has made a welcome return to pitching form.

SCAA are not going to get so many lucky breaks this time for on Sunday they will be up against a team which boasts air-tight fielding and an awesome array of batters all of whom are capable of knocking the ball over the right-field fence.

SCAA have already won the Senior championship and are out to keep their sheet clean, having won seven games in a row but if determination and memories of a humiliating defeat are the basis for a pre-game forecast I pick the Cheyennes to hand out the biggest thrashing ever to be administered to any reigning champion team. I should be surprised if it turns out any other way.

The last match of the day at 3 pm will see the Taiwan

Two years jail for man who robbed sailor

Causeway Bay Magistrate, Mr I. T. Morris, sound-ed a warning this morning to those who taught young children to steal.

Passing sentence of two years' imprisonment on a man charged with picking pockets, Mr Morris said, "These offences are all too prevalent in the Colony and I think that when, as here, it can be brought home, exemplary punishment should be meted out so that others who may be tempted to do the same thing, are warned beforehand of the consequences."

He further commented: "My experience in the Courts of this Colony has led me to the conclusion that men such as the accused now before me make it their business to teach even young children to steal with a degree of cunning far beyond their years."

BAD TYPE

Mr Morris said the defendant, Lam Chi-kan, was a bad type and had no less than 14 previous convictions.

The magistrate commended a witness of the case, Li Ming, who helped police in the arrest of the accused.

The accused approached two American sailors on Wednesday in a cobbler's shop at Fenwick-road in Wanchai.

While one of the sailors bent down to remove a shoe to be repaired, accused placed his left hand on the sailor's shoulder. He was holding a newspaper with his right hand, and he placed this hand and the newspaper over the sailor's left breast pocket.

All this, however, was witnessed by Li Ming, who seized the paper and found wrapped in it a sum of $57.

Inspector E. D. Carpenter appeared for the prosecution.

Former HK journalist leaves on film assignment in Japan

A man who has made good use of his time since leaving the Navy, left Hongkong on his way to Tokyo yesterday.

He is Gordon Bradley, who first came to Hongkong while still in the Service as Engineer Officer in 1945. To him it is "the most beautiful place in the world."

He returned here in 1949 and worked on the staff of the South China Morning Post for two years, then went to the United Kingdom where he joined the staff of the BBC and from there he went in 1955 to Associated Television as interviewer on "This Week," and many other reporting programmes.

Now he produces his own programmes for ATV, having started with "Hongkong Today" in 1958, which he followed up with films on Rhodesia, Kenya, Ghana, Anatolia, New Zealand and Formosa.

In 1960 Mr Bradley went to Brazil to make a film on the new city of Brasilia for Rank's "Look at Life," and his present trip on which his wife is accompanying him takes him to Tokyo for Rank's film Japanese life.

He will return to the United Kingdom at the end of May.

FIFTY nine entries for the open singles and 32 for the Open Doubles have been received for the annual Colony tennis championships. In the singles, S. A. Rumjahn, the holder, will meet with keen competition.

A notable absentee is Ho Ka-lau who is away from the Colony.

Unless something very untoward occurs, the Rumjahn cousins should retain their doubles title as none of the pairs looks capable of displacing them.

W. C. Hung, who was runner up with Ho Ka-lau in the doubles last year, has entered with E. C. Fincher.

On known form T. A. Pearce and L. Goldman appeared to be the strongest HKCC pair in the tournament.

More flats for Wong Tai Sin

Work will begin shortly on the construction of eight more blocks of flats at the Wong Tai Sin resettlement estate in Kowloon.

The new blocks, each of seven storeys, are to be built west of the existing flats in the area formerly used as a rifle range.

The flats, some of which will be self-contained, will provide accommodation for about 21,000 people.

Tenders for the construction work are called for in today's Government Gazette. Work, beginning in May, is expected to take a year to complete.

In an interview with a South China Morning Post reporter at the Hongkong Hotel, where she is staying, Miss Anna May Wong, the famous screen actress, expressed her views on the modern Chinese woman. "She seems to be holding her own with the outside world. She is giving the world a chance to get acquainted with her. The older generation always stayed at home, and the Chinese woman was a person of mystery except to her family or immediate friends."

"Some of the girls I have seen in the Far East are most attractive and beautiful and they seem to me to be quite different from the Chinese girls in the United States. I don't know if it is the lovely clothes they wear, or the settings or what."
